Goswami A. From the Editor's Desk. APCRI J. 2026; 28(1): 1.

Dear Readers,

It gives me great pleasure to present you with this issue of the APCRI Journal, Volume - 28, Issue – 1, July 2026.The APCRI Journal is being regularly published continuously for the last 28 years.

I had been Editor of the APCRI Journal in the past also, from July 2005 to July 2018. I had to work as Editor of this issue of the APCRI Journal from February 2026, as the previous Editor resigned on January 2026.

The APCRI Journal is the only journal dedicated to different aspects of Rabies research, both Medical and Veterinary. It is created by the collective efforts of personnel working in different aspects of Rabies and its Control. It is the official Publication of the Association for Prevention and Control of Rabies in India.

I am thankful to all the authors, reviewers and the Publisher Advanced Research Publications for their efforts in helping me to bring out this issue of the APCRI Journal.
